"The Invisible Government" by David Wise and Thomas B. Ross will be reviewed by Frank C. Jones, Macon attorney, at the YWCA book review luncheon Tuesday at 12:30 p.m.

The book, by the authors of "U-2 Affair," deals with the apparatus and operation of Central Intelligence Agency and gives considerable attention to the Bay of Pigs.

Mr. Jones, member of the law firm of Jones, Sparks, Benton and Cork, was president of United Givers Fund in 1964 and is chairman of the UGF board now. He is currently president of the Greater Macon Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Lloyd McEachern, chairman of the YWCA book review committee, will preside at the luncheon, and speaker's table guests will include Mrs. Jones, Mrs. A. S. Grinalds, sponsor of the luncheons, who will give the invocation, and Mrs. R. P. Thornton, co-chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Marshall Fleming, hospitality chairman, will be in charge of hostesses. Decorations will be handled by Mrs. Russell Scandrett's flower committee.

Reservations for the luncheon have closed. At 9 a.m. Tuesday reservations will open for the May review, to be given by Mrs. Harry Lammon.
